NEW SITE FOR HIGH SCHOOL.

Board of Education Negotiating with Trustees for Bishop Premises.

A MOST DESIRABLE LOCATION.

Description of Interior and Admirable Arrangements for College Purposes. Beautiful Flowers and Shrubs—Magnificent View from Tower Story, Etc.

Negotiations are pending between the Board of Education and trustees of the Bishop estate for a lease or sale of the Bishop mansion on Emma street. If secured, the premises are to be used as a high school, an adequate institution being long desired and needed in Honolulu.

BISHOP PREMISES ON EMMA STREET, FOR WHICH NEGOTIATIONS ARE NOW PENDING BETWEEN THE BOARD OF EDUCATION AND BISHOP ESTATE TRUSTEES. IF SECURED, THE BUILDING WILL BE USED AS A HIGH SCHOOL.

July. The selection of these premises was made for a multiplicity of reasons, chief among them being favorable location, surroundings, arrangement of building necessitating slight changes, sanitary facilities, etc.

Perhaps no building in the city of Honolulu possesses so fine a location as that to which the Bishop mansion is claimant. Placed as it is within the center of a dwelling house district, it has none of the disagreeable surroundings incident to closely packed localities, but preserves intact the fresh and invigorating atmosphere due to the large yard and labyrinth of trees and shrubs.

From Emma street the Bishop grounds are shut off from public view by a stone wall, now overgrown with beautiful vines, choosing an artistic manner of spreading themselves about. Above the wall can be seen just the faintest touches of variously colored foliage, causing one to long for a closer view. By two gates admission can be gained—one directly in front of the house for those entering on foot, another to the extreme left for the accommodation of vehicles.

The grounds possess that softened and tropical appearance so common to the islands; but instead of the wild overgrowth of abundant vegetation, likewise so common here, there is the appearance of a master hand prevalent throughout the whole—in the laying out of lawns, arrangement of certain plants in numerous places to make a harmonious effect, the grouping of vines and plants near the house show to greater advantage the latter. But the Bishop mansion deserves still greater attention, owing to the fact that the Bishop estate trustees are now considering an offer made by the Board of Education, who are anxious to secure the building for a high school, the present one used for that purpose being inadequate to growing needs.

A description of the Bishop mansion, it is believed, will show to the Honolulu public extraordinary fitness for the purpose indicated. The spacious grounds and favorable surroundings, as have already been mentioned, constituting a potent factor in the success of any building as an educational institution.

The basement is admirably adapted for storage purposes, being furnished with a cement floor throughout the several compartments, into which it is divided. In fact, at the time Mr. Bishop was living the basement was used for putting away accumulations of her ancestors, the Kamehamehas. It is very cool, being surrounded on all sides by lattice work and perpendicular slats.

Ascending the front steps, which are quite wide and perfectly suited to the character of the building, one reaches a veranda which extends around the front part of the building, the back part containing the dining room and kitchen, being by this separated from the front part.

The large door leading into the front part of the house is an elaborate piece of workmanship. Between this and the hall is a vestibule some eight feet wide. Running directly back, and connecting the front with the back part of the surrounding veranda, is a wide hall, from the left side of which ascends a flight of stairs upon which no pains or money were spared. At the top the flight winds to the right, and is lost to view in the second story.

To the right of the hallway are two large rooms separated by a folding door, and used in the time of Mrs. Bishop for reception purposes.

To the left are three rooms of nearly equal size, used as bedrooms at one time. All these, with the reception rooms, open into the hall by large doors.

Certainly no more convenient arrangement as found on the first floor could be thought of for a school building. The rooms are all large and destitute of the unnecessary partitions and stray corners so common in houses of the size. Aside from this, there is an abundance of light and almost perfect circulation, the windows being specially adapted for that purpose.

SENATE TAKES UP LAND LAW.

House Bill Read by Title and Considered by Sections.

GAME BILL PASSES THIRD READING

Hawaiian Goose Protected—Senators Have in Giving All Land Purchasers Full Control of Their Land—House Holds Short Session—Restriction Bill

FIFTEENTH DAY—JULY 1.

The Senate got down to business yesterday and is now struggling with the Land law as passed by the lower House. The morning session opened at the usual hour, Sens. Rice and Wilcox being absent.

Minister Smith gave notice that at the time of his election by the Senate, J. A. Kennedy was not eligible to sit in the Council of State as he held two Government positions. Mr. Kennedy had since resigned his Government positions and was ready to serve if re-elected by the Senate. The election was put over to the regular order.

A communication was received from the House announcing the joint standing committees. Minister Smith stated that the final engrossed copies of the Land bill as passed by the House would soon be presented to the Senate. Under the regular order of the day the Senate on a motion of Sen. Baldwin proceeded to the election of J. A. Kennedy to the Council of State.

Sen. Brown presented the report of the Judiciary Committee on the Game bill. The report sets forth that the Act does not change the open season on doves and wild pigeons. It also shortens the open season for the native wild duck half a month and of quail and pheasants half a month. For all migratory birds the open season is lengthened, and it is also recommended that the Hawaiian wild goose receive the same protection as the wild duck. With the exception of the dove and wild pigeon the open season begins on the 15th of September in each year.

The committee on the Vehicle Tire and Wheel bill recommended its reference to a commission, one of which shall be the Minister of the Interior, which is to report at the next session of the Legislature. Minister Smith brought up the question of certificates of election for members of the Council of State. On motion of Sen. McCandless the Secretary was instructed to address a communication signed by the President of the Senate to members of the Council notifying them of their election.

Committee on depression of business and the Electric bill asked further time to report.

The consideration of the Game bill was made the regular order of the day. The first section was passed after the insertion of the words "Hawaiian wild goose" according to the recommendation of the committee. In the matter of the fine to be imposed on those breaking the law; after considerable discussion, the Senate accepted the committee recommendation placing the fines at not less than $10 or more than $50. The bill was passed to engrossment and on motion of Sen. Brown the third reading was made the special order for Wednesday. On motion of Sen. Brown the report of the Auditor-General was referred to the Finance Committee.

The Secretary read communications from the House including the resolution introduced by Rep. Robertson properly certified and engrossed. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The bill conferring on the Marshal, Sheriff and their deputies the power to administer oaths was also presented. The bill passed its first reading and took the usual order. The Senate at 11:30 o'clock took a recess to 1 o'clock.

At 1 o'clock the Senate came together, Senator Wilcox being the only member absent. The House bill on public lands was read the first time by title and passed. Under suspension of the rules the bill was read the second time by section. On motion of Senator Brown the report of the special committee was taken up with the House bills. Sections 1 and 2 were passed as in the original bill. Section 3 giving the classification of the public lands was passed as read.

In Section 4 an amendment was offered to strike out the words "deeds and" Senator Brown stated that the amendment was off red by the committee as it was not considered just that the Government should have the right to go upon purchased land and take what was desired. Senator McCandless said "without compensation" was also an objectionable feature of the section. Senator Baldwin stated that such a provision must increase the value of the land to the buyer. He thought it an unheard-of thing that the Government could take up land when and where it pleased without asking "by your leave." Minister Smith believed the rights of the holders were well protected by the provisions in the latter part of the bill which prevented the Government from taking land on which crops were growing. The provision was not unheard of, having been in vogue in Southern California. Senator Baldwin believed it improper to make it obligatory for either deeds or leases to contain the proviso that "the Government may at any time with reasonable notice and without compensation take possession, etc." Senator Lyman believed the Government had no right to go upon the land of a private citizen without compensation and that the clause was unconstitutional. Minister Smith asked whether it was not for the public welfare to guard against the high charges often required by private parties when the Government desires to make public highways, using private property therefor. The purchaser bought on these conditions and made his preparations accordingly. On motion of Senator Brown the words "deeds and" in the first line and "such deeds and" in the second and sixth lines were struck out. On motion of Sen. Baldwin the word "may" was substituted for "shall" in the third line, thus making it optional with the Government to put a proviso in the lease to take lands for roads, rock, gravel, etc. The section passed as amended.

Section 5, providing that the Commissioners may from time to time by public notice proclaim as a road or street any portion of the public lands not occupied under the provisions of Parts 6 and 7, was passed as read. On section 6 the committee reported an amendment, supplying the words "to be appointed" in place of the words "composed of the Minister of the Interior and two persons," thus providing for the appointment of the Commissioners by the President. It was also recommended to strike out "removable" in the third line and "appointed" in the fifth line. Sen. McCandless offered an amendment that the words "approval of the Cabinet" be changed to read "approval of the Senate." Minister Smith believed it would be better for the Minister of the Interior to be a member of the Commission, and was supported by Sen. Brown. The latter moved that the section pass as presented from the House. Sen. Baldwin stated that the action of the committee had been to hedge the action of the Land Commission. He believed the Commission should consist of a body of men entirely unbiased and the Minister of the Interior should not have the power to swing the members of the Commission according to his own ideas.

Minister Dason remarked that the members of the Executive ought to be closely in touch with every department and bureau of the Government. The Land Commission should not be conducted entirely separate from the Executive. The amendment as proposed by the committee was carried by a vote of seven to five.

Sen. McCandless brought up his motion for the approval of the appointments by the Senate. Sen. Baldwin thought the wording should remain as it was. It might be desired to make an appointment while the Senate was not in session. Sen. McCandless' motion was lost. On motion the section was passed as amended.

Section 7, as revised by the House bill, divided the land in the following districts: First district, Hilo, Hamakua and Kohala; Second district, Puna, Kau and Kona; Third district, the islands of Maui, Molokai and Kaula; Fourth district, Oahu, and Fifth district, Kauai and Niihau. The section as passed by the House was adopted.

On Section 8 the committee recommended striking out the word "shall" and substituting the word "may." Minister Smith held that the office of sub-agent should be made obligatory, as it was very proper that records and transfers should be kept in each district. The section was passed as in the House bill.

Section 9, giving the Commissioners power to establish forms of all instruments for carrying out the act, etc., was passed without amendment.

Section 10 was passed to read "The Commissioners, with the approval of the Cabinet, shall have power to purchase lands for homestead purposes with any funds that may be appropriated therefor."

Section 11, providing for district rangers, was passed as in the House bill. Section 12 was also passed as read. Adjourned to 10 o'clock Tuesday.

House of Representatives.

After preliminary business Rep. Bond, for the Educational Committee, reported on the petition from Alae, South Kona, for new school house and teacher's cottage. It was shown that there were urgent need of additional school facilities. The committee recommended that $13,850 be inserted in appropriation bill; also that clerk act as school agent under increase of salary. Referred to Executive Council.

The same member presented a report on the petition of a teacher at Hilo, Hawaii. Referred to Executive Council.

Rep. Robertson's Chinese Immigration Act passed second reading.

The same member announced his intention to introduce bills allowing the sale of alcohol for medicinal purposes, and the withdrawal of kerosene from custom house.

The House adjourned at 10:50 till 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

A Great Benefactor

The North Sea canal, which is to be opened next month with an international naval pageant, will be lighted at night by electricity in order that it may be constantly earning money. The electric light is proving a boon to commerce as well as to manufacturers, and in turning night into day it might also be said to have doubled the span of human activities, as it surely has added to the sum of human happiness.

Among the numerous persons who have been cured of rheumatism by Chamberlain's Pain Balm, mention should be made of Mrs. Emily Thorne, of Toledo, Wash., who says: "I have never been able to procure any medicine that would relieve me of rheumatism like Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I have also used it for lame back with great success. It is the best liniment I have ever used, and I take pleasure in recommending it to my friends." For sale by all medical dealers. TIRES ACT IS DENOUNCED.

Senator McCandless' Pet Measure
Sat Down on Hard.

IS OBNOXIOUS AND UNNECESSARY.

Draymen and Hackmen Express Positive
Opinions Regarding the Measure—
Storm of Indignation Raised.
Down Town Merchant Interviewed.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

A meeting of the Senate Vehicle Tires Committee and persons interested in the recently proposed bill for the regulation or changing of tires on vehicles in the islands, was held in the old legislative hall last night. Aside from the committee, there were present W. H. Hoogs, of Hustace & Co., draymen; Tom Wright, of Wright & Son; E. Peck, drayman; J. J. Buckley, Fashion Stables; James Quinn, C. A. Peacock, and others. Business was proceeded with at once.

The meeting was held to obtain views of interested persons on the subject of vehicle tires with which Senator McCandless' bill deals.

Tom Wright, the carriage builder, expressed his opinion from the experience gained by years of labor at the trade. He suggested many changes in the bill, which were generally accepted. These tended to diminish the size of tires on various vehicles suggested by Senator McCandless. There was not much discussion on the merits of Mr. Wright's views, as they seemed to conform to the majority of those present.

When the question of tires on hacks and wagonettes was brought up, the hackmen were heard from.

"I don't see any sense in changing the size of tires on hacks," said John Buckley. "They are all right as they are. You who favor the bill say that it is for the protection of the roads. I say that it is not the hacks that do the harm; but the heavy drays, water carts and the like that do the mischief."

Senator Baldwin agreed with the remarks of Mr. Buckley referring to the harmlessness of hacks and wagonettes to roads. The idea prevailed, and it was thought best to leave such vehicles out of the bill.

J. C. Quinn spoke of the damage an increase in the size of tires would do to the business. Aside from adding an unnecessary weight, it would make them look very clumsy. Speed would be diminished and the neat appearance, which counts for so much, spoiled.

The smaller vehicles were considered, and the sizes of the tires as set forth in Senator McCandless' bill diminished accordingly.

If the bill is changed according to the expert suggestions made last night, it is certain there will be but little change made in present conditions.

It was suggested by several present last night that vehicles tires were about right now, and no beneficial change could very well be made without involving serious and unnecessary complications.

In speaking of the McCandless bill yesterday, a well known down town merchant said:

"Judging by the storm of indignation aroused among liverymen, hackmen, draymen, expressmen, etc., over the McCandless bill, which threatens to change the shape of nearly all the wheels in the country, thus incurring great expense to owners of vehicles, it is very evident that the bill is extremely unpopular. With so many hands raised against it, it is doubtful if the measure pass, or, should it successfully work its way through the two houses, there is strong possibility of a declaration of war being made against it. The Government, of course, would have to let out a big contract when the time came to alter its numerous wagons, but private parties and firms might combine and fight the law in the courts. Legislative acts do not always receive the sanction of the Supreme Court. The passage of the bill will at least have the effect of changing all wheels in the Government service."

"We had an epidemic of dysentery in this vicinity last summer," says Samuel S. Pollock, of Briceland, Cal. "I was taken with it and suffered severely until some one called my attention to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I procured a bottle and felt better after the first dose. Before one-half of the bottle had been used I was well. I recommended it to my friends and their experience was the same. We all unite in saying it is the best." For sale by all medical dealers. MAUI PREPARES FOR THE FOURTH

Races at Kahului Will Be Chief Attraction.

SAFE ARRIVAL OF THE KAHULUI.

Made the Trip From San Francisco in Eleven and One-Half Days—Japanese
Physician Departs—Scottlanders Going Home—Excursions to Haleakala.

MAUI, June 25.—The races at Kahului will of course be the strong attraction on the glorious Fourth for Maui people. There is not so much interest manifested, however, in them as in former years owing to the fact that the Hawaiian Jockey Association will also hold a race meeting in Honolulu, thereby keeping most of the best horses at the capital. Then, too, the program published by the Maui Racing Association is somewhat more meagre than when the races at Spreckels' Park were considered the chief sporting event of the year. The three-minute trotting race is causing the most excitement. There are so many horses entered that there is talk of making two distinct contests. The pony race will also prove interesting.

Makawao people will give a garden party at "Sunyside," the residence of Dr. E. G. Beckwith.

Dr. Armitage of Walluku gave a dinner during Thursday the 27th in honor of the departure of Dr. Murara. The popular Japanese physician is soon to visit his native country.

During Wednesday, the 26th, Misses Ethel Smith and Grace Cook and party made the ascent to the crater of Haleakala. Several other parties have made excursions to the extinct volcano during the week.

On July 3d Miss Hao will marry Mr. Makekani, a student of the Pacific Theological Institute.

Miss Kate Watson of Maunaloa Seminary is visiting friends in Honolulu.

J. P. Cook of Oakland is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Baldwin, Haiku.

During Wednesday, the 26th, while some prisoners were at work on the road through Alelele Gulch, a Chinaman was detected in the act of presenting a countryman with a plug of opium. He was promptly arrested and incarcerated.

J. J. Hair, a sugar boiler of Hamakua, will soon visit Scotland for a three months tour.

J. W. Colville, manager of Hamakua, and Pala will also depart for Scotland during the middle of July.

The program for the Kahului races has been filled. The purses offered amount to something over $400. All the horses entered are local ones without any special fame, excepting some of W. H. Cornwell's horses. Neither C. F. Horner nor R. Ballentine have entered any of their stable.

The Claudine departs Friday instead of Saturday as usual.

During 25th inst. the steamer Kahului, Tyson master, arrived from San Francisco 11½ days on the trip. She brought three passengers, a butcher for Spreckelsville and two others who are enjoying the round trip. The steamer visited Mahukona this week and returned yesterday.

Wilder & Co. refused to receive any of the cargo consigned to them, not wishing to break their contracts with other vessels. Accordingly she is discharging her Mahukona freight at Kahului in bond. She was loaded with coal and general merchandise.

The Consuelo, Jacobsen captain, arrived this morning but has not been entered at the Custom House.

Weather—Delightful.

PLAYED A DOUBLE GAME.

Special Johansen Fired for Harboring Deserting Sailors.

Another shining light in the detective world—more specifically described as specials(?)—has been ruthlessly cast down from the highest pinnacle of fame through double dealing.

One Johansen, who boasts of his likeness to the great Boulanger, he of springy step, eagle eye, etc., is the latest revolutionary detective dropped at police headquarters.

For some time Johansen has been on the suspect list, because of his intimacy with runaway sailors. Friday the special played his last put up job; the sailor squealed and Johansen, the brave, is now chasing himself around the block in search of work. He may star in a drama especially written, having startling and realistic escapades with runaway sailors; or he may calmly rest after laborious duties of—etc., or better still let this be his farewell appearance before an unappreciative audience.

The latest victim to Johansen's greed was a sailor named Larsen (no relation of "Billy"), who deserted recently from the Manuel Llaguno.

After being grabbed up by a confederate of the special and locked up in the city jail, Larsen told the following story, which is the same that caused his whilom friend and protector to lose a lucrative position as a member of the Hawaiian secret service. It is not quite as good a job as belonging to Pinkerton's or the celebrated organization of which ex-Detective Wagner was a respected member, but the monthly stipend is fair and always on hand when the last day of the month comes around:

"I deserted the Llaguno because I got tired. Soon after I was met by Johansen coming out of a saloon. He told me to come along with him, as he had a good place to hide me. He also told me of his connection with the police department, and said that I need have no fears for my safety, as he was getting a large salary from the Government and was not in need of rewards. After I had been in his room two days without anything to eat, Johansen came and said he was going to take me to a safer place. That I reached a safer place is true, for hardly had I got away from the door when another officer grabbed me and took me to the police station. Of course the other officer might have been there by accident, but it didn't look so to me, especially when I found that a liberal reward had been offered for me."

BASEBALL PENNANT.

Unknowns Add Another Victory to Their Score.

The baseball game on Saturday between the Kams and Unknowns was one of the closest contested played this season. The first part was particularly interesting and exciting. The Kams led off with three runs in the first inning, but failed to score in the second. The Unknowns were lucky enough to make one run in their half. In the second they bunched their hits and piled up four more, adding one in the third, one in the fourth, one in the fifth, three in the sixth, goose egg in seventh and one in eighth—a total of 12—the ninth inning not being played.

In the third the Kams counted two, in fourth one, fifth, sixth and ninth no score, with one in seventh and one in eighth—a total of 8.

The game was well played from start to finish. Simerson and Hansmann, two new men, played in right and center fields. Both of them did effective stick work. In first part of the fifth inning Kane-wani was put in the box for the Kams. He was not very steady for a couple of innings, afterward throwing a straight, hard ball. Nothing seemed to daunt Captain Thompson's players; they hit everything that came, and excelled their own good record in fielding and base-running.

Features of the game were running fly catches by Captain Thompson and Woods, with general all-round good playing by both.

The Stars and Unknowns will play on Fourth of July. The Unknowns are far in the lead for the 1895 pennant.

My blood was in a bad shape and my system was all run down. I thought I must die, but noticing several testimonials in the papers in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla I bought three bottles and found that it did me so much good that I continued taking it. I was without appetite, sleepily, and had a headache most all the time. In fact I cannot describe my feelings. After using one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla I found it was doing me

THE teacher of a woman's political league in New York City recently told her pupils that the study of parliamentary law is one of the first duties of womanhood because parliamentary tactics can be used admirably for managing husbands. "If a woman wants to prevail on her husband to make an investment, go on a pleasure trip or do anything else which he is averse to doing, it is very foolish for her to make a point of being going to put her foot down, as a man would. When a woman puts her foot down in such a case, she is very apt to have to take it up again. A little tender pleading and gentle persuasion will accomplish much more than strong minded insistence. The woman who can manage her husband well can manage anything else she wants to, a political club included." It bids fair for the husbands to remember that a motion to adjourn is always in order.

It is further stated that the author of the voice bill studied on it for twenty-seven months. We gave the author more credit than that, the general impression being that he worked so hurriedly and in the midst of his arduous political duties was so hard pressed, that for the time being he forgot that carriage wheels cannot be changed in the twinkling of an eye; he failed to call to mind that the creative power of new

THE Gild of St. John is an organization formed within the New York Protestant Episcopal church whose chief object is to bring about a union of the great Catholic churches—the Roman Catholic, the Greek Catholic and the Episcopal church—and to promote Christian unity. The New York Herald has received many replies from the leaders of many denominations in the United States as to the probable success of the movement. The general tone of the replies is not reassuring, though the expression of the hope that some day the world may see a complete church unity is universal. Rev. Sydney Strong of Cincinnati, O., says: "You ask me a question about church unity. Organized church unity is a dream of the future. Spiritual unity is possible now, at once, and is in a measure realized. Between the best Roman Catholics, Congregationalists, and Episcopalians there is already spiritual unity. As the years go on

JOHANSEN DRAWS HIS GUN.

Wordy War Between the Sleuth and His Former Landlord

OWES FOR BOARD AND LODGING

The Revolutionary ex-Special Finds it Cheaper to Move than Pay Rent Hunting the Gun-Fallor—Peace is Finally Patched Up Between Them.

Ex-Sleuth Johansen was one of the principals in a very wordy war with a former landlord and landlady on Union street last evening.

It seems that until recently Johansen roomed with E. H. F. Wolters, of the Pacific saloon. A few days ago he left, securing rooms in the lodging house next to No. 2 engine house.

Last evening at an early hour Wolters and his wife made a call on Johansen at his new quarters. The object and result of the call were not known until the trio reached the street.

As they emerged from the gate persons near by heard muttered curses from the men. Something about debts was mentioned.

Realizing that the vicinity of the engine house was too public a place for discussion, the parties moved up toward the Monsarrat residence. There the interrupted talk grew more animated. A passing pedestrian saw Johansen draw a revolver on Wolters.

The trio became uneasy about something and moved to a position directly in front of the engine house, where the following dialogue between the two men took place:

"You owe my wife $20 for a month's board and rent, and you owe me $80. Now I want you to pay up immediately," said Wolters.

"Mr. Wolters, I did not think you would treat me so shabbily," replied the ex-detective.

"Never mind about that; if you will take out that revolver and lay it down, I will fight you."

Here Wolters began to unbutton his coat, but Johansen remained standing in a very dignified position awaiting further developments.

In a short while the three individuals bade affectionate farewells and departed for other places.

A special officer was searching for Johansen later, but was unable to find him in the vicinity of the Elite Ice Cream parlors.

DISTURBED PUBLIC WORSHIP.

An Officious and Stubborn Japanese Under Arrest.

Ishii, a Japanese, has got himself into a peck of trouble over persistence in trying to wean away from Christian influence certain Japanese now being instructed by a well known and zealous missionary lady of the city.

For some time it has been the habit of this lady to gather about her a band of Japanese on Sunday evenings for the purpose of instructing them in Christian life.

Ishii, for some unaccountable reason, did not like the influence gained over his countrymen by the lady in question and sought every opportunity to cause them to backslide.

His last and most serious attempt was made Sunday night, in consequence of which he was arrested, afterwards furnishing bail. He will appear in the police court this morning. When arrested he pleaded for mercy from the lady, but owing to the continued and serious nature of the case some stringent action was necessary.

UNDER BAN OF SECRECY.

Council of State Holds Its First Session.

Pardons of Political Prisoners Presented by President Dole—Published July 4th.

Pursuant to the call issued Saturday afternoon members of the Council of State assembled in the Representatives hall Monday afternoon. President Dole acted as the chairman of the meeting and George W. Smith was elected secretary pro tem. The members present were Messrs. Brown, Nott, Jones, Wilder, Naone, Kawainui, Robertson, Murray, Kennedy, Mendonca, Bolte, Ena, Robinson, Cooke, Ministers Smith and Damon.

On motion of Minister Smith the President appointed a committee of three to draw rules by which the deliberations of the body shall be governed. Those selected were Councilmen Brown, Naone and Robertson.

President Dole stated that the object of the meeting was to consider the pardons of a number of prisoners which he should present, and further stated that it might be best to discuss the matter in secret session. He left it for the Council to decide. Minister Smith was promptly on his feet and said in general he believed in open sessions, but this was a matter which could be more freely discussed in secret session. He further remarked that there were some things in connection with his department of which he could speak more freely in executive session. The motion was put and carried unanimously, Marshal Hitchcock and W. A. Kinney being requested to remain. The Council adjourned at the close of the secret session. The pardons will probably be published on the Fourth.

TIM IS STILL THE CHIEFTAIN.

Officers Elected at Last Night's Meeting of American League.

Waity Withdrew From Contest—Dr. McGrew Not Able to be Present. Geo. Hawkins is New Treasurer

(From Saturday's Daily.)

For several weeks there has been considerable rivalry among members of the American League consequent to election of officers for the ensuing six months. There is a strong element in the League opposed to President Murray's administration, as well as the influence of certain of his satellites. They claim, whether justly or not, that affairs have been conducted contrary to the well being and success of the organization. This faction are confident that a change of officials would redound to the peace and welfare of the body.

With this end in view, several prominent men were interviewed and requested to become candidates.

Last week a committee waited on Mr. Waity, of Bishop & Co.'s bank. He agreed to stand for president, and the opposition to Murray went to work with a will to elect Waity. On Wednesday, however, Waity concluded to withdraw, but did not inform the committee until late yesterday afternoon. Dr. John S. McGrew was seen and consented to run, but being called away on professional duty, was not present at last night's meeting, and consequently could not be nominated, as the rules of the League specify that persons receiving nomination for office must be present when so named. The opposition ran H. G. Crabbe for first place, but that gentleman received only 30 votes out of 135 cast.

The American League hall was well filled last night, the occasion being election of officers. There were two tickets—one headed with Murray, the other with H. G. Crabbe. Among those present were numerous military officials and mounted police officers. Voting was spirited, 135 being cast, requiring several hours to conclude. The officers elected were T. B. Murray, president; J. N. Wright, first vice-president; Allan Clarke, second vice-president; M. H. Drummond, recording secretary; Dan Lyons, financial secretary; Geo. Hawkins, treasurer; Messrs. J. Delaney, Capt. Wilson and C. Crabbe, trustees; H. Evans, sergeant-at-arms; Levi Perkins, inner guard; John Graham, outer guard.

The retiring treasurer is to furnish his successor with a complete list of receipts and expenditures. Harmony prevailed throughout the election and meeting.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A JAP.

Latest News Notes from Kau—Excavation Work—Surprise Party.

KAU (Hawaii), June 26—On the 15th instant two Japanese, who were sick with beriberi, and working on the new fence for Hawaiian Agricultural Company on the upper edge of the forest, were sent to Kapapala ranch for treatment. Instead of keeping on the path, they thought to gain time by cutting through the forest, and, in consequence, lost their way. One of them gave out and could go no further. He requested his companion to push on and secure assistance to take him to the ranch, and, after a hard time, he reached the ranch. The next morning he started, with help, to get his companion; when they reached him he was dead.

At first it was thought to be a murder. Deputy Sheriff Yates and Dr. Capron were quickly on the scene, and, after an autopsy was held, it was found that death was caused by heart disease.

When the Hawaiian Agricultural Company want to do any excavation they do not put on a big gang with wheelbarrows. As Mr. Walton introduced the sluicing system, he had a cut 200 feet long, 10 feet wide and 10 feet deep, with about twelve men and a stream of water completed in a day and three-quarters, whereas it would have taken the same men with wheelbarrows over two weeks.

Naalehu and Honuapo mills are turning out plenty of sugar. Fred Hansett was the recipient of a grand surprise on the evening of the 19th instant at Pahaia. It was planned to be seen that Fred is a great favorite in the community by the way it was attended. His numerous friends presented him with a beautiful present.

Lacro-se is becoming right along. As the boys practice they find more and more interest in the game.

MARQUARDT CONCERT A SUCCESS

Both Musicians Prove That They Are Artists in Their Line.

Madame Marquardt's Harp Playing Captured the Audience—A Large Audience More Than Pleased—Fine Music.

At the Y. M. C. A. Hall last Friday Mr. and Mrs. Marquardt showed themselves to be artists of the first degree and achieved a success that should be to them a flattering tribute of appreciation in an entirely new field. Miss Richards and Messrs. Heitmann, Love, Rosen and Herald, also, should feel gratified at their reception, and the many people present demonstrated that they were well pleased with the program presented.

The great attraction of the evening was Madame Breitschuck Marquardt. She was given almost an ovation when she played her second solo. She plays with much ease and has a wonderful control over her instrument. Her "Cascade" and "Elegy" were both received with enthusiasm. She is a gifted artist, and as such has certainly captured the musical portions of Honolulu. Mr. Marquardt's stage presence predisposed his audience to a favorable consideration of his claims to recognition. He was a favorite with the unusually delighted audience, as he well deserved to be; for such finished technique and faultless execution, such delicacy of touch and velvety smoothness bowing, combined with a refined taste devoid of all affectation and trickery, have never been surpassed in Honolulu.

Mr. Marquardt has his method of handling his bow, and in this differs from many other violinists. His tones are very clear and true, especially the high notes, which come forth evenly and without a break.

Of American Vessels Going to Foreign Countries Only Two Ports in World show Larger Tonnage

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SUN—Sir: Mr. Shearman and others tell us that the Hawaiian Government has been stolen, the natives reduced to virtual slavery, and their wages brought down to the lowest possible point.

The simple, historical fact is that the natives receive twice as good wages as they did when I was a boy, and they are individually, on the average, five times as well off in earthly goods. I have never seen a Hawaiian beggar, though I have lived in the islands twenty-eight years.

The production annually, per capita, by the inhabitants of the islands is larger than that of the United States or any other country of which I have any knowledge, which is a sign that they are an industrious people. The foreign commerce of Hawaii is much larger, per capita, than that of the United States, and seventeen-twentieths of it is with America.

Of United States vessels going to foreign countries there are only two ports in the world which have a larger tonnage than Honolulu, while, if you count the number of vessels carrying the American flag, Honolulu has more than twice as many as any other port.

The statistics for the year ending June, 1894, being:

Rio Janeiro.... 64 Honolulu.... 165 Hongkong..... 79

"Where else in the world have the Chinese, Japanese, and Portuguese been so well received, and where else has there been so thorough an acknowledgment of the brotherhood of the human family? The surest way to conciliate and harmonize all classes is to improve the condition of all. What liberality has been here shown for the natives in the recent erection of the Kanehahameha Girls School by Charles E. Bishop and the unequalled museum and the magnificent gift of Mrs. Charles E. Bishop of $450,000 for the maintenance of those two schools, so admirably housed and so admirably supplied.

The existing Homestead Act is likely to be made still more attractive to the native Hawaiians, and verify here the old motto of John Adams that the ownership of homes is essential to individual thrift and self-respect and to national strength and prosperity.

It seems to me that this place is better fitted by nature to be a winter resort and a sanitarium for the world than any of those places I have visited in Southern California—even Riverside or Pasadena or any of the most frequented cities and towns in Florida. Under the republic, where every effort is made to promote the well-being of all classes, with these unrivaled attractions of soil and climate, a grand future opens before Honolulu and the Hawaiian Islands. The hour has struck for the Hawaiians to pass into a new form of government. The God of nations has signally interposed in their behalf."

ARRIVAL OF YACHT ELEANOR.

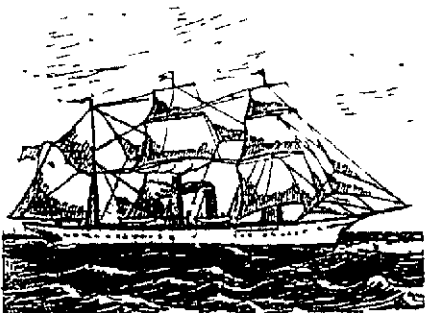

Handsome Specimen of Marine Architecture Now in the Harbor.

OWNER AND PARTY TOURING WORLD

A Floating Mansion—A Steel Vessel With Steam Power and Large Sail Area—One of the Finest Pleasure Yachts in the World—Brief Stay Here

The steam yacht Eleanor, Captain Scott, arrived Sunday morning, 14 days and 5 hours from Yokohama, Japan. She is anchored in naval row. The vessel is the finest yacht that ever visited Honolulu, and as a result she attracted a great deal of attention yesterday.

Her owner, William A. Slater, is on board and, besides his wife and two children, Mr. Howard, Dr. Tingley and J. W. Slater accompany him on the trip. The party is making a tour of the world. The vessel started from New London, Conn., on October 27, 1894. The first port touched at was Fayal, Azore Islands; from there the yacht proceeded to ports on the French coast and, after touching at Naples and Messina, Port Said was reached. The yacht steamed through the Suez canal and in the course of time stops were made at Penang, Singapore, Borneo, Manila, Hongkong, Canton, Amoy, Shanghai, Nagasaki, Kobe, and finally Yokohama was reached.

Stops were made at many places of interest to allow Mr. Slater and his party time for sightseeing. While the yacht was at Singapore they called on the late Sultan of Johore, who in turn paid a visit and had lunch on board.

The Eleanor will remain in port for about one week and then she will leave for Hilo, as Mr. Slater is anxious to see the volcano. San Francisco is expected to be reached about the 20th inst. and, after a brief stay there, the yacht will go as far north as Sitka, returning to San Francisco about the 21st of October. Mr. Slater expects to reach New London, the starting point, about the first of May, 1896.

Mr. Slater's home is in Norwich, Conn. He is a member of the New York Yacht Club. His yacht flies the flag of the club mentioned.

The Eleanor is a splendid specimen of marine architecture, and is built entirely of American material. She was built by the Bath Iron Works, and was launched in May, 1894. She was designed by Naval Architect Charles R. Henscom. The vessel is bark-rigged and carries 10,935 square feet of sail. The large sail area was decided on in case the engines or coal should give out any time. In that event her commander would find himself with a full-rigged bark under his command, perfectly competent to withstand any weather, and also to show her heels to the majority of sailing craft.

The principal dimensions of the vessel are as follows:

Length over all.....	231 ft.
Length l. w.	208 ft.
Length keel.....	185 ft.
Beam, extreme.....	32 ft.
Depth of hold.....	17 ft. 5 in.
Mean Draft.....	13 ft. 4 in.
Displacement.....	1,136 tons.

The propelling power consists of a vertical direct acting triple expansion engine. Steam is supplied by two Scotch boilers. The propeller is three-bladed, and can be detached when steam power is not used. The yacht is also provided with a patent steam windlass, a steam steerer, and a distiller and ice machine. She is fitted with a complete electric plant, including a powerful search light.

She is constructed of steel throughout, with water tanks forming a double bottom forward and aft of the machinery spaces. The hull is minutely subdivided by transverse and longitudinal bulkheads into a large number of watertight compartments, and no doors are cut in the bulkheads below the water line unless absolutely necessary.

The cabin arrangements are perfect. The main saloon is finished in paneled mahogany, and is magnificently upholstered. There is a very costly piano, also several luxurious couches, and paintings by eminent masters. The fireplace is a beautifully finished arrangement, being almost in every respect similar to that in a well furnished drawing room ashore. From the state-room access can be had to the owner's state-room and study, a room which is not only tastefully furnished, but is supplied with a splendid library wherewith to beguile the tedious of dull days. The bed is quite a massive piece of furniture, and the wardrobe, writing desk, etc., are of carved mahogany. The bathroom is fitted strictly from a sanitary standpoint, and finished in polished hardwood and marble. Adjoining the owner's room is the nursery.

On the opposite side of the passage there is another suite of rooms, consisting of two state-rooms, nursery and bath, which are well fitted and finely finished. These rooms, in connection with the linen closets and pantry, occupy the space forward of the main saloon. Aft the saloon are state-rooms and bath for governess, nurse and female servants. The house on the main deck is of steel finished in paneled mahogany outside, with brass rails and stanchions around top. Within the deck house are situated the dining room, social hall, pantry, laundry, drying-room, galley, captain's room and captain's state-room. The dining room is finished in mahogany and furnished similar to the saloon, with open fireplace, sofas, etc. Aft of the dining room is the social hall, finished in harmony with the dining-room. A stairway of elaborate design leads to the saloon below from this room. On the starboard side there is a passage from the dining-room forward, leading through pantry, galley, etc., thus maintaining communication between the after and forward part of the yacht without exposure to the weather.

There is also a laundry and drying room, and the officers' quarters are all fitted in keeping with the excellent arrangements prevailing in the other parts of the ship. The officers and crew of the Eleanor comprise two officers besides the captain, a doctor, three engineers, carpenter, four termasters, four apprentices boys, fifteen seamen, four firemen, two messmen, three oilers, six stewards, barber, two Chinese laundrymen and two deck boys. There are seven boats, including a steam launch 28 feet long.

Captain C. W. Scott, the master of the vessel, is well known in New York yachting circles. He was formerly in the employ of the Pacific Mail Company, running between New York and Colon.

COMPANY B SOCIAL HALL

Building 16 x 30 to be Erected at Once—Commendable Enterprise.

A much needed commodity among members of the volunteer corps is to be inaugurated by Company B. Work will be commenced Monday morning on a social hall for the above company. It will be constructed between the drill shed and old barracks, made of wood, finished in good style, and be 16 x 30 feet. A doorway from the company's quarters in the drill shed will lead to the new hall. Books, magazines, periodicals of all kinds will be furnished for use of members, in fact all adjuncts necessary to make the place as attractive as possible will be provided. Later a pool table may be purchased, with other games conducive to pleasant recreation.

The move is in the right direction, and commendable on the part of Company B and its energetic membership. Other volunteer companies may follow in the wake of Company B.

HALL'S COTTAGE PAINTS

Do seem to please our customers a little better than any thing ever before brought to the Islands in the line. If you want cheap mixed paints do not call for these as they are made of pure lead, oil and colors, and not of "Long Island dirt" mixed with fish oil. They are cheap though if you wish to take lasting qualities and choice tints into consideration.

Our "NAVY DECK AND FLOOR PAINTS" also take well. These are especially prepared for floors and dry hard in a night.

Now that we have received our big invoice of GARDEN HOSE, and the pumping plant is about to get in its daily work, no one with a home should be without a garden or a nice green lawn. The hose we have is so well and carefully made that a 3-ply hose will last better than 4-ply of other makes, and is lighter to carry about.

CITIZENS GUARD, ATTENTION! A good deal of interest is being taken in Citizens Guard Company's on every island in target practice, and the Hilo Citizens Guard is about to issue a challenge for a 10-man match at 200 yards, with a National Guard of Hawaii Company. They all come to us when they want cartridges or targets, and many are learning to reload their old shells and can thus afford many more rounds per month, per man. We keep in stock the best assortment of loading tools, powder measures, lead ladders and moulds. Also the correct thing in way of powder, primers, lead, tin, etc. We have targets, and paper to make targets, and cutters to make pasters, and after you get an outfit from us you will be able to make 5's and 4's right along provided always that you are steady, if not the bromide store is right handy on the opposite corner from us. We also have a few of the best Military Target Rifles made. Scores of 47, 48 and 49 out of 50 made at the Honolulu Rifle Association range weekly prove this. The price is low and every man who enjoys target practice can afford to have one.

Call and satisfy yourself about our stock of all these things and our prices as well.

Perfect Health for Ten Years!
In 1884 I was in Macon, Ga., and became so weak that I could scarcely stand up, and commenced to ache throughout my whole body. I procured a dollar bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters and began using it. In less than a week I was back at my work feeling as if nothing had happened, and stronger than before. Since that time I have used from one to three bottles every spring, except last spring, when, I am sorry to say, I neglected to take any, in consequence of which in August I lost one week from business, the first I had lost since 1884. I must say to suffering humanity to keep a bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters constantly in the house, to keep down large and uncalled for bills for medical service. For ten years I have taken Brown's Iron Bitters, and the result is that I have never had a doctor's bill to pay, except the $4.00 last August.
Yours very respectfully,
ALEXANDER GOODE
